A gourmet sandwich, likely a patty melt, is presented on a rustic wooden cutting board. The sandwich is filled with a beef patty, melted cheddar cheese, and caramelized onions, all nestled within a crusty rye bread. Fresh green arugula leaves are tucked into the sandwich and spill out onto the board. Beside the sandwich sits a small white ceramic bowl filled with a creamy, light-colored sauce. The entire scene is set against a dark, textured background, possibly a burlap cloth, with soft lighting highlighting the textures of the food and wood.
